CORPORATE EXPRESS AUSTRALIA LIMITED WINS SUSTAINABLE COMPANY OF THE YEAR AWARD

Corporate Express Australia, the office supply and services company, wins this year's prestigious Ethical Investor "Sustainable Company of the Year Award", announced this week at a luncheon in Sydney.

The Ethical Investor Australian Sustainability Awards, now in their eighth year, recognise best practice in corporate sustainability across Australian Stock Exchange Listed companies.

Corporate Express was nominated for its exemplary supply chain program, which the company has now implemented throughout its top 100 suppliers and for its 400 plus green products line. Judges also commended Corporate Express for its outstanding environmental and labour relations record.

In announcing the award, John Newton, group environment and sustainability manager at the Awards joint lead sponsor Amcor, says: "Sustainability is a journey and for some companies it is more complex and riddled with detail than others.

"This company sells a vast array of products, many of which are manufactured overseas, particularly in Asia. And with that, it has become a leader in establishing a meaningful level of sustainability commitments from its suppliers."

Grant Harrod, Chief Executive Officer of Corporate Express, says: "We are very proud to have the achievements we have made in delivering sustainable supply chain options to our customers recognised in this way."
